

SmartSentinels Privacy Policy

Effective Date:

01.08.2025

Overview

At SmartSentinels, your privacy is not just respected — it's built in. We operate a decentralized platform with no data collection, no user tracking, and no storage of personal information. Full stop.

1. We Don't Collect Personal Data

We do not:

- Collect names, emails, phone numbers, or IDs
- Track user behavior or use cookies for profiling
- Log wallet activity beyond standard on-chain visibility
- Store any user credentials or authentication data

You connect via Civic auth method. You interact with the dApp. That's it.

2. Authentication via Civic

SmartSentinels uses Civic Pass to verify wallet eligibility for features like private sales, access control, or compliance.

- ✓ All user verification is handled by Civic
 - ✓ We do not see, store, or access any of your identity data
 - ✓ Civic is an independent provider fully responsible for its own data policies
 - ➔ Read Civic's privacy policy at: <https://www.civic.com/legal/privacy-policy>

3. Blockchain is Public

Like all decentralized platforms, wallet addresses and on-chain activity are public by design. These are:

- Not controlled by us
- Not considered personal data by SmartSentinels
- Immutable and permanently visible on the blockchain

By using the Platform, you acknowledge this reality.

4. No Liability, No Guarantees

We are not responsible for:

- Loss of assets, access, or tokens
- Downtime, bugs, or technical issues
- Third-party failures (e.g. wallets, KYC providers, Civic)
- Misuse, exploits, or forks of smart contracts
- Any form of damages, direct or indirect

Use the Platform at your own risk.

5. Changes to This Policy

We don't plan to change much. But if we do, this page will be updated. Your continued use means you agree to the latest version.
